

Sweet Adorable Wife, Please Kiss Slower

Novel Chapter 1 To 5

---

1 I Am Your Husband

A disheveled girl lay on a big bed in a luxurious suite. Both her eyes were tightly shut, and her skin was unusually pale.

"Is she dead?"

The young man in the bathrobe checked her breathing and gave a disinterested comment.

"Her body is so weak. What a waste of a dose of my new medicine."

His lips twitched slightly, then he turned, preparing to leave.

As he walked to the door, he suddenly heard a slightly hoarse female voice behind him. "Who are you?"

Upon hearing this, the young man's eyes became a subtle shade of black. He turned and met a pair of clear eyes.

... She wasn't dead yet?

Although the girl looked clueless, her eyes were no longer as dazed as before. Instead, she looked alert.

However, she did not seem to recognize herself.

Ah, a fool indeed.

The girl leaning against the head of the bed blinked. Her skin color was gradually returning to normal.

To be honest, she did not know who the man in front of her was, and she also did not know who she herself was.

Because... it was as though her soul had traveled and she was now in someone else's body!

Thankfully, from her past work experience, she was very receptive of changes. If it had been an average person who encountered such an incident, he or she would have had a heart attack.

She sized up the man who was leaning lazily against the wall.

He was slender and had a lazy temperament. It could be said he was fairly good-looking, with strands of hair falling in place across his forehead. He had a fair complexion, sharp features, and a pair of beautiful, peach-shaped eyes.

Definitely very good-looking. The way he looked at her was a bit strange, though...

Tang Chen walked slowly to the bed and supported himself with his hand while leaning over Lin Wanwan. He playfully scanned her face back and forth.

"I am your husband, and tonight is the night we consummate our marriage."

As the man bent over, his bathrobe started to reveal the muscles underneath, showcasing sexy curves.

Lin Wanwan tolerated it for a while, resisting the urge to claw at him.

Did he think that she could be so easily deceived?

Would a husband look at his wife in such a predatory manner?

However, the original owner of this body did agree to check in to a room with him. Even if they were not a couple, they might be friends.

Maybe it was all just for fun?

She smiled lightly. From the man's slightly stunned look, she guessed that the original owner of this body had good facial features. With a satisfied heart, she curled her arms around his neck.

"In that case, what are you waiting for?"

She died as a virgin in her previous life. Now that there was such a good-looking man right in front of her, she was going to take full advantage of this chance.

Perhaps she would no longer be in this body when she wakes up.

Tang Chen's eyes revealed a trace of suspicion. It was obvious that it was the same face, and it even had the same innocent expression. What was it that was different, though?

"You're right." He lifted Lin Wanwan's chin and gave an evil smile.

The hormones that seemed to radiate from the man made Lin Wanwan, who was used to seeing handsome men, swallow her saliva.

As the other party did not move, she pushed him down on the bed and positioned herself on top of him.

"Now, you'll use your lips, I'll use my hips."

Hearing this, regardless of how calm Tang Chen may be, he couldn't help feeling a little confused.

Could a mentally challenged individual say such crude words?

Lin Wanwan could not be bothered with what he was thinking. She bent her head down and prepared to feast...

2 So She's A Fool

At the thought of giving out her first kiss, she felt a little excited.

Bang!

At this moment, the door was violently kicked open.

"Who's so unromantic as to disrupt the situation now?" Thinking that it was a pity, Lin Wanwan stopped what she was doing and dressed herself properly.

More than ten reporters with cameras on their chests barged in and started to frantically snap photos of the couple on the bed.

The excitement on their faces changed instantly when they saw Tang Chen.

A reporter who knew him blurted out, "Isn't it supposed to be the married actress Bai Yao who's here for a secret rendezvous? Why is it young Tang instead?"

"Eh? The lady next to him looks a little familiar. She looks like the second daughter of the Lin family? Haven't heard of her having any sort of relationship with young Tang though..."

"What is going on here?"

The whisperings ruined the atmosphere in the suite. At the same time, Lin Wanwan's eyes shone.

She was a rich young girl? Looks like the original owner of this body did not come from a simple background.

But this man... he did not seem to have any legitimate relationship with the original owner.

Lin Wanwan surreptitiously looked at Tang Chen and saw the scornful smile on his face.

That look made her heart beat faster, and she instinctively slapped his hand away from her waist. Her body softened, and she collapsed to the floor.

"Who are you and why have you kidnapped me here?"

As she asked, tears started to flow down Lin Wanwan's face. She turned pale, appearing like a big, white, and pitiful rabbit.

Thinking back to the time she pushed him down to the bed, Tang Chen was not sure if he should smile. Another layer of doubt formed in his mind.

The ability to cry at the drop of a hat was something that not even grade A actors could have easily done.

The reporters were sympathetic to Lin Wanwan's words. A junior reporter who'd just joined the industry couldn't help but ask, "But Tang Chen is the President of Sheng Rui Corporation! How could he have kidnapped a girl? Do you all believe her?"

"Why not?"

Someone retorted and explained in a low voice, "It hasn't been long since you joined the industry, so you might not have known. Lin's second daughter's brain... is a little unusual."

He raised an example after organizing his thoughts.

"Half a year ago, at famous actor Luo Han's movie conference, Lin Wanwan rushed to the stage and attempted to kiss Luo Han, but she failed to do so. She kept saying that there was no one else but Luo Han she would marry. In the end, the Lin family came forward to confirm that Lin's second daughter had suffered a fever which burned her brain when she was six."

"Oh..."

Everyone started to look at Lin Wanwan with pity. The occasional looks they threw at Tang Chen, meanwhile, were akin to those a scum would deserve.

Tang Chen glanced at the girl who was hiding and "shivering" at the corner. He got off the bed, and his sharp eyes swept across the audience.

"Have you said enough?"

Although he gave a gentle smile, the reporters broke out in a cold sweat.

"Just a word of caution: you better watch your mouths. Regardless of how bad Lin Wanwan may be, she is still my girlfriend."

As he said this, the entire room turned dead silent.

Even Lin Wanwan, who was currently trying to retrieve memories from this body, squinted her eyes.

This man knew how to cut his losses quickly. In order not to create a scandal, he was willing to let a fool be labeled as his girlfriend?

A pity she did not want to be controlled by anyone.

Once the reporter mentioned Tang Chen's name, she immediately knew who he was. It was impossible not to know such a big shot in this country.

If she doesn't draw the boundary lines with him soon, she might land herself in a worse situation.

Did she not burn her brain? It would be normal for her to be crazy, right?

3 I'm The One Who's Your Boyfriend

Lin Wanwan got to her feet and messed up her long hair, preparing to make a scene.

The next second, the sound of a man's laughter traveled from afar and was getting nearer.

"It's so crowded here."

Everyone was stunned. Lin Wanwan and Tang Chen also turned towards the direction of the voice.

Unnoticed by all before then, a slender man appeared at the door.

Under the sunlight, it was hard to recognize his face. However, it was a sight to behold.

Following his laughing eyes, everyone's heart tightened when his gaze met theirs.

Only Tang Chen raised an eyebrow casually. His eyes flashed with interest. "Oh, what a rare guest!"

The man ignored him, his eyes falling instead on Lin Wanwan.

"Lin Wanwan, come here."

Who is this man?

From his tone, it seemed that he knew who she was?

Watched by over ten pairs of eyes, Lin Wanwan hesitated before slowly walking over.

When her shoulder brushed past Tang Chen, she could clearly catch a glimpse of him and understood what he was trying to convey from his eyes. Her eyelids twitched, and she hastened her pace at once.

When she was in front of him, he reached out his bony hand.

Lin Wanwan's hand clenched tightly the instant it was grabbed. He gently exerted force. Losing control, Lin Wanwan fell into his arms.

A cool fragrance engulfed her.

Si...

The sound of cool air blowing could be heard. Yet, no one dared to speak.

Lin Wanwan realized that since the appearance of this man, all the noisy reporters had quietened down. No one even dared to breathe.

"Why didn't you say?"

At the sound of a warm male voice above her, Lin Wanwan hurriedly lifted her head and was immediately surprised.

The sharp brows and the phoenix-shaped eyes, the pointed nose and the thin lips. This combination was like God's most meticulous creation and masterpiece. It was impossible to pinpoint any flaws!

Aside from the excellent skin, that pair of beautiful eyes shone brightly, like a piece of black jade hiding a hint of a smile. Like an ethereal cloud, there was a sense of mystery.

The slight curve of his lips made him look more elegant, and it even displayed a hint of laziness.

After taking just one look, no one could turn their eyes away from him.

However, his temperament was accompanied by a kind of indifference. It was as if nothing could tug at his heartstrings.

"Say what?" Lin Wanwan was confused.

"Tell them that I'm the one who's your boyfriend."

The man gave a slight smile. His cold fingertip touched Lin Wanwan's nose tip with a hint of pampering.

"..." Upon hearing this, all the reporters revealed shocked looks, as if they'd been struck by lightning.

Lin Wanwan's lips twitched. What kind of situation was this now?

Did she not burn her brain? Was there a higher demand for fools this year?

Tang Chen, who was leaning against the wall, interrupted lazily, "Lu Zhanbei, even if you wanted to snatch someone away, it should be clear who got here first. We are a couple, and that's why we checked in to a room. You? You said that she's your girlfriend. Where's the evidence?"

The reporters nodded secretly. They would also like to find out more about this, but they did not have the courage to ask.

The man named Lu Zhanbei said, "If I say yes, it means yes. Evidence? Is there a need for it?"

An unquestionable source of power could be detected from those simple words.

Tang Chen laughed and did not say anything. He met Lu Zhanbei's gaze head on and raised his eyebrows even higher.

The two did not speak while locked in each other's gaze. This was the start of a collision between the two powerful individuals.

4 The Mysterious Mr. Lu

The tension led the reporters to break out in a cold sweat. Even Lin Wanwan wanted to wipe away the nonexistent sweat from her forehead.

"Since you want to see, be sure to take a close look."

Lu Zhanbei looked at Lin Wanwan. She gave him a side glance and blinked continuously, as if wanting to understand clearly what was going on from his eyes.

A very beautiful pair of eyes.

Lu Zhanbei suddenly changed his mind.

Lin Wanwan was still waiting for him to say something when it suddenly became pitch black in front of her.

A gentle kiss landed lightly on her eye.

It ended as quickly as it started.

Lin Wanwan did not even have the opportunity to reject. Then the man gave Tang Chen a leer and made to leave.

"If Sheng Rui Corporation closes its doors, I suggest you become a tabloid reporter instead. You'll be outstanding."

"..."

"Let's go."

Lu Zhanbei did not even look at the petrified reporters. He grabbed hold of Lin Wanwan's slim waist. They left with him half-hugging her in an intimate posture.

The bodyguards in black who were originally standing on both sides of the corridor kept up.

Lin Wanwan could not help but look back. Was this Lu Zhanbei really not afraid of what the reporters would write?

What she did not know was that before Lu Zhanbei walked out of the corridor, the reporters had looked at one another and, of their own accord, started to delete the photos taken earlier.

The junior reporter who just joined the industry was quite reluctant.

"Why do we have to delete them? This is big news! Even young Tang did not say we have to delete them. Moreover, no one can ever stop us from reporting the facts!"

Another senior reporter said in a low voice, "I'm only going to tell you this once so listen up! No one knows who this Mr. Lu really is, or what his background is like, but based on observations, he is definitely one of the highly-ranked individuals on the list of people who cannot be offended in Xia country!"

The junior reporter's face changed. He pointed his finger upwards. "Even if you compare with those above?"

"Yes!"

The junior reporter looked down in fear and hurriedly deleted the photos.

The reporters packed up and quickly left, not forgetting to apologize to Tang Chen.

Tang Chen was the only person left in the luxurious suite.

He leaned against the head of the bed, as if spineless, and lit a cigarette. His lips curved, but all that formed in his mind was the image of Lu Zhanbei kissing Lin Wanwan.

The image disappeared and what next came to mind was her pair of crystal clear eyes. Yes, they were pretty.

"Lin Wanwan..."

A dead person actually came back to life, and there was such a great change in her temperament. Her words and actions were so different from those of that rumored fool's.

And that Lu Zhanbei. He actually came into the picture, which made the situation even more intriguing.

Tang Chen leisurely opened the drawer by the bed and took out a syringe filled with unidentified liquid. He played with it for a while in his hands.

"Lu Zhanbei, I don't believe I'll lose to you at dealing with women."

...

A black, low-key Rolls-Royce was cruising smoothly on the highway.

Lin Wanwan glanced at the man sitting next to her, silently uttered thrice ' I am a fool, ' before asking innocently, "Dear, why did you help me?"

Lu Zhanbei ignored the name she used and casually replied, "I disagreed with what I saw."

5 A Kiss of Affection

Lin Wanwan resisted the urge to roll her eyes and pretended not to understand him. She continued to probe, "Do we know each other? My father said not to sit in a stranger's car."

Lu Zhanbei gave her a side glance, his expression plain. It seemed like he was sizing her up effortlessly, but it felt extremely oppressive at the same time.

Lin Wanwan subconsciously straightened her body and sat up, feeling the same sort of nervousness a primary school student might towards a headmaster.

This reminded Lu Zhanbei of the times his younger brother was punished when he was a child, and a playful thought crossed his mind.

"You can call me Uncle Lu." This answer was him beating around the bush once again.

Oh, I have never seen a person who takes advantage of others this much!

Was he still human for bullying a fool?! Was he?!

Lin Wanwan pretended to be ignorant. "Will an uncle kiss his own niece?"

Lu Zhanbei tilted his head slightly and his gaze came into contact with that pair of unforgettable eyes. He could not help but recall the moment he kissed her.

There was a slight tingling in his heart, as if a feather was falling down. However, this feeling lasted for just a moment, and its effect was negligible.

"A kiss of affection."

Affection my a*s! What a load of bull!

"Since you are my uncle..." Lin Wanwan reached out her hand. "Where is my welcome gift?"

Lu Zhanbei placed in her hand a white business card with the borders trimmed in gold. There was only a string of numbers on the card, along with the exquisite name: Lu Zhanbei.

Lin Wanwan tried her best not to show her obvious dissatisfaction and said, "Uncle, did anyone ever tell you before that you are very tricky?"

Upon hearing this, the sidekick-cum-chauffeur Gu Mo turned speechless in despair.

In the entire Xia country, there were no more than ten people who had his master's business card. There were plenty of politicians and businessmen who would beg for one.

She dared to despise it?

Lu Zhanbei did not change his expression. "Indeed there are. So I'm going to promise you another thing. If you run into trouble in the future, you can find me... thrice."

Only three chances?

Lin Wanwan's lips quivered.

Forget it. They were strangers to begin with. The fact that he was willing to help her thrice was already a very good thing.

Even though he was unwilling to state his reason for helping, she was not a real fool. Why would she reject such a godsend?

"Thank you." Lin Wanwan gleefully kept the business card.

Upon hearing her thanks, Lu Zhanbei felt a trace of doubt once again.

Based on what he'd seen thus far, besides being a little naive and innocent, she had no connection to the word 'fool' at all.

Was there a mistake in the rumor? Or... had she been acting all this while?

"Oh right, can you send me back to the Lin family?"

Lu Zhanbei closed his eyes to rest and suppressed the thoughts in his mind.

"Sure. You're left with two more chances."

Lin Wanwan took a moment to recover herself.

"This is counted as one chance?"

Without any hesitation, she reached out and opened the car door. She flung herself out and rolled on the ground a couple of times.

This unexpected move changed Lu Zhanbei's expression slightly. As he got Gu Mo to stop the car, he quickly glanced outside as well.

"Don't worry, Uncle. I'm fine."

Lin Wanwan got up and flashed him a smile that was even more dazzling than the sun.

"I'll go back myself, so you still owe me three chances!"

Gu Mo's lips twitched. How was this owing? It was obvious that the three chances were given to her out of goodwill.

"Bye!"

Lin Wanwan waved her hand and wanted to walk off normally. Then she recalled she was supposed to be a fool, so she jumped a few steps then ran away.

Gu Mo asked, "Sir, shall we go after her?"
